

EMMANUEL

Worship at Home – March 15

This Week's Sermon:

"Like Honey" with the Rev. Peter Sung

This Sunday, the Rev. Peter Sung was scheduled to join us for our Sunday service. Because Emmanuel will not be meeting in-person this week, Rev. Sung has provided us with a previously recorded audio file for the sermon he intended to share with us. Like Honey is based on Proverbs 24-25, and deals with many of the same themes we have been exploring in our Lenten study of Ecclesiastes, including the way that our human experience is always seeking after that 'one thing' that will complete us...and all the while, the testimony of scripture is revealing that none of our pursuits in this life (including church!) will ever completely satisfy the God-given thirst for eternity that dwells in each of us. Please join us in learning from Pastor Sung by listening to "Like Honey" on SoundCloud.

The Rev. Peter Sung currently serves as ministry coach for the Pacific Northwest Conference of the Evangelical Covenant Church. Peter has previously worked as our denomination's director of church planting, and as associate superintendent of the East Coast conference of the ECC. Most recently, he served as senior pastor of Evergreen Covenant Church on Mercer Island.

Congregational Prayer for March 15

Each week, we will provide a new resource for prayer, written by members of our community. Please join us today in a congregational prayer composed by the Rev. Matt Randles.

The Music of Lent

Part of our worship experience always includes lifting up our voices to God in communal song. During this season of Lent, our worship songs have been especially focused on the complex nature of our human condition, and the longing we experience for the coming kingdom of peace and love that God has promised. Our worship director, Jansen, has curated a special playlist of Lenten worship songs for us this week, and you are invited to listen on Spotify or listen on YouTube.

Lenten Reflection Calendar

To help each of us enter more deeply into the transformative journey of Lent this year, we are providing a Lent 2020 Reflection Calendar with questions that you can use to guide your own meditation and prayer in the coming weeks. The calendar contains reflection prompts each day leading up to Easter. Please join us in this spiritual practice of preparation.
